EXHIBITIONS REPORT

MAY 2022

As we join together for our AGM and Away Weekend I have a great feeling of a return to normality.

We can continue to report on exhibitions and other live events.

This has been a challenging two years for the Exhibitions Team. In 2020 it was mostly about cancellations and keeping everyone informed about rescheduled dates, most of which were rescheduled again.

It was a pleasure to be able to report on Salon International 2021 and Professional Beauty in our last issue. Exhibitors adapted well to Covid regulations with some changing focus to good effect.

This time we can report of the much postponed Cosmoprof Bologna which despite our fears was, I understand, a remarkable success at least as far as Europeans were concerned.

We also have a report on Olympia Beauty and HBSA events from Mike Patey.

Our thanks go to all our contributors and to Martyn Wady for keeping the Calendar of Exhibitions/Events updated.

Thanks also to Shannon Rowan, just returned from three months in our Denman office in Boston, for pulling everything together.

We wish everyone an enjoyable and successful weekend at Ashdown Park.

Professional Beauty 2022

Professional Beauty London was a fantastic opportunity for trend spotting, inspiration, networking, and learning, with over 800 brands under the one roof! Professional Beauty saw visitors from all across the beauty world, including Salon & Spa's, Wellness Centers & College Students, along with visitors from over 80 countries worldwide.

Crazy Angel professional and self-tan was repacked with a whole new look in 2021 and so the Professional Beauty Systems team were so excited to launch the new range to the public for the first time and allow both new & current customers a closer look at the collection. The Crazy Angel stand certainly stood out with its new, bold packaging & brand visuals, that not only showed the fantastic product results but called out some of the key selling points of the brand. Crazy Angel Brand Ambassador & Lead Educator, Abbie McCann, gave free spray tans to all who wanted to try it out which really created a buzz around the stand.

Apraise Professional Lash & Brow tinting brand saw a strong presence of current customers looking to stock up on their favourites as well as getting to try some of the new product launches. The stand showcased a selection of new brand imagery that looked fantastic and drew positive feedback from visitors.

The Kaeso stand was a true success for its first showcase! With its bright & powerful backwall graphic, Kaeso brought in a crowd & a sense of excitement for not only lovers of the collection but those who are new to the brand and were excited to get their hands on some of the product. The full range was on offer, from skincare & massage to manicure & pedicure – Kaeso is the complete salon collection. Selling out of some of the favourites on the first day, many were so excited to see their favourite brand at Professional Beauty for the first time and get a chance to both stock up & try some of the products they might not be so familiar with.

It was fantastic to see the buzz of the beauty community again after such a long time away and it was even better to see Kaeso so well received at Professional Beauty by both current & new customers.

Cosmoprof 2022

Standing on throbbing feet, with a head fug from way too much red wine I croaked in a barely audible voice “And to think this time last year I was disappointed when Cosmoprof was cancelled.” After a two-year absence Cosmoprof Bologna was back on and Denman was again proud to have our presence in the UK Pavilion. Combined with the Irish, and widely sandwiched between the USA and South Korea, it was a much-depleted UK representation from that in former years. No more than 2 or 3 rows and around 15 small booths, and not many recognisable brands, but still enough to be noticed.

Denman had decided early on to take a punt on exhibiting at the initial earlier date and while it was annoying when it was moved to a later date as it clashed with a pre-arranged press day and we lost money on flights, in truth it was a good decision. As while there were still some restrictions with mask wearing in the country in general, it’s hard to imagine many visitors traveling to Italy if there had been tighter restrictions. As it was, visitor numbers were pretty good; not up to normal levels, but worth attending all the same. With the notable exception of the Chinese, Japanese and Americans, we were pleased to welcome visitors from all over the globe to our stand.

Our first official Cosmoprof since the sad death of our export manager Olaf and my first as a Denman employee, and the first with a new logistics partner, so there was an element of trepidation of what to expect. We needn't have worried. Yes, there were some issues with the wrong furniture on our stand, but contrary to expectations, the organisers dealt with it quickly and without any fuss. Our stock arrived on the stand and the empty cartons were taken away and stored and then brought back timely at the end of the show. The complimentary hospitality area was well staffed and well stocked and aside from having the world's smallest coffee machine, was a welcome asset for the entire four days – as were the lunch boxes that were included as part of the stand. All in all, I have to praise the organisers for making the show – in the UK pavilion at least – a pretty painless experience.

As for our concerns about a lack of visitors, these were totally unfounded as was any anxiety on how myself and the pretty much all new Denman team would be accepted by our longstanding export Partners. Warm greetings, hugs, and handshakes and three solid days of productive meetings reminded us all, that while Teams calls are practical, there's nothing like a face-to-face meeting to really get to know people and get things done.

The anomaly that the UK pavilion is part of the CosmoPack exhibition which starts and finishes a day earlier than the main Cosmoprof event is bizarre. But it did mean it was easier to get flights in and out, plus being in a hall separated from the hordes of hairdressers meant we could have serious and civilised meetings on our stand.

One issue I did have was that many stands started packing up early on the Sunday and by 2pm stands were being disassembled as people were still walking around. In addition, there were groups of people descending on stands like vultures snatching up any stock or samples that were left unattended. We actually witnessed a groups of about 10 people completely strip the stand opposite of everything including a sweetie jag and a display pineapple!

All in all I have to say that tiring though it was, it was great to be back at Cosmoprof and back in Bologna. It also seemed that everyone; organisers, restaurant staff, taxi drivers were genuinely pleased to have us back. Don't worry though, I'm sure it will soon return to it's usually disorganised chaos by next year.

Cosmoprof Bologna 2022

The 53rd edition of Cosmoprof Worldwide Bologna attracted visitors from more than 140 countries and saw more than 2,700 exhibitors from 70 countries attend the event.

Professional Beauty Systems exhibited their hair and beauty brands including OSMO, Crazy Color, Colorissimo, Apraise, Kaeso, Crazy Angel, Skintruth and TanTruth in the British Pavilion in Hall 19 at Cosmoprof Bologna.

After a long two years for the hair and beauty industry however, it was great to finally meet customers from all over the world in person and present new product launches across both the hair and beauty ranges. The show stopping stand attracted a large international audience, with new customers attracted by the brands strong imagery and large product offering. New additions to the Professional Beauty Systems portfolio proved popular with customers both new and existing.

OSMO also exhibited in Hall 25 in association with their Italian distributor POKER. With an eye-catching stand featuring product imagery OSMO's extensive range of haircare and styling products drew positive feedback from both new and existing customers.

Live demonstrations took place on both the Sunday and Monday featuring some of Italy's finest hairdressing and barbering talent showcasing their OSMO results to great effect, from creative styling to dazzling bright shades on both male and female models using the OSMO Color Psycho range. Dancers and singers also graced the live stage area to the delight of the crowd and created a fun, energetic and positive atmosphere for the duration of the show.

HBSA Summer Party 2022, Stationers' Hall on July 11th

The 2022 HBSA Summer Party will take place at the magnificent Stationers' Hall in London which is situated near to St Paul's Cathedral. The venue was completed in 1673 after the Great Fire of London and is a Grade 1 listed building. The Stationers is one of the City Livery Companies and the company dates back to 1403 when the text writers and those who sold books and writing materials joined with the lymners who decorated the books to form a guild.

The venue is very easy to get to and St Paul's underground station is only 2 miles or 6 minutes from Oxford Circus tube station.

The evening starts at 6.30pm with reception drinks in the private secluded courtyard garden which is an oasis in the City centre. There will be plenty of opportunity to network with colleagues and friends from the industry before moving through to the main hall for dinner.

The evening will be accompanied by some live musical entertainment both in the gardens and latterly in the dining hall itself. Wine will be served with the meal and full cash bar will also be available.

We will be supporting the Little Princess Trust charity and will run a raffle and auction for this great industry cause.

The cost of the evening is £135.00 plus VAT per person which includes a welcome drink, a three-course meal, half a bottle of wine per person (or soft drink alternatives). An additional wine list will also be available on the night.

We hope you will be able to join us and to reserve your table (in 10s) please contact Mike Patey info@thehbsa.co.uk or call 0845 519 3258. Individual or smaller group bookings are also welcome.
